

Montevideo July 22nd to 26th, 2024
THIRD CIRCULAR LETTER

The XXI Conference has a very special meaning since we will be celebrating the 30th anniversary of the foundation of the Association.

We are very enthusiastic about the quality and quantity of proposals for papers presented, which exceeded 300, which gives a significant framework for the celebration of this anniversary.

We also want to highlight the fact that the International Association for the History of Religions and the Research Committee on the Sociology of Religion RC22 of the International Sociological Association have joined the celebration.

In this newsletter we share some information to continue moving forward.

Deadline for the submission of proposals for papers is over

A significant number of proposals for papers have been received, exceeding 300 proposals for the Joint Meeting with the ISA Committee for Research in the Sociology of Religion, which will run throughout the 22nd, and the Conference itself, which will be held from July 23-26.

The group coordinators will proceed to their evaluation and the result of the evaluation will be communicated to the proposers by April 30 at the latest.

Antônio Flávio Pierucci Scholarship Program

The deadline for submitting applications for partial and full enrollment scholarships has also ended. Applicants will be notified of the results by May 7 at the latest.
